

Lorin Industries – Corporate Fact Sheet

PROFILE

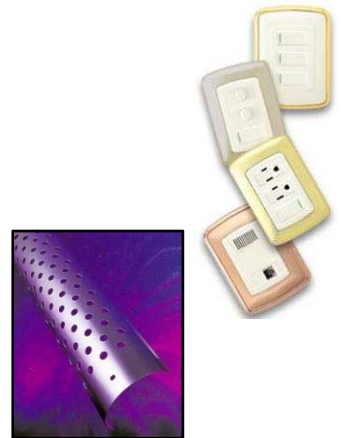

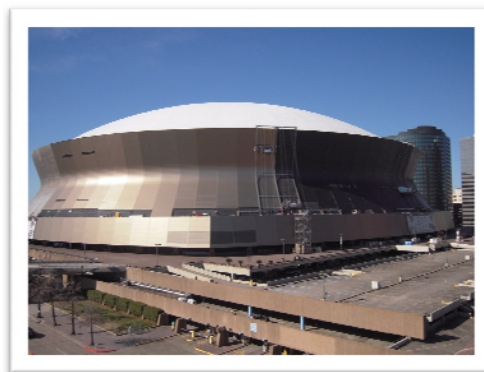

Lorin Industries is one of the world’s largest providers of continuous-coil anodized aluminum products and services. Founded by the Kersman family in 1943, Lorin Industries started as an electroplating company prior to transitioning to a continuous-coil anodizing process. Today Lorin Industries has grown to have the most anodizing capacity in the industry. We have done so by providing our customers the widest range of anodizing and aluminum finishing solutions, industry leading innovations including custom colors, as well as slitting and shearing services. We are an ISO 9001:2008 certified company.
